

The moral is that life is more
Than just some kind of dress-up (doll, game, nice).
How you act and who you are
Should be pretty much the (way, friend, same).

God doesn't care how good we look,
Or seem to others from (afar, New York, home).
The thing that matters most to God,
Is who and what we really (went, like, are).

This man loves to give to the poor,
But only when others will see;
He wants us to think he is generous,
But what do you think? Is he?

Find nine strange
things in this picture.

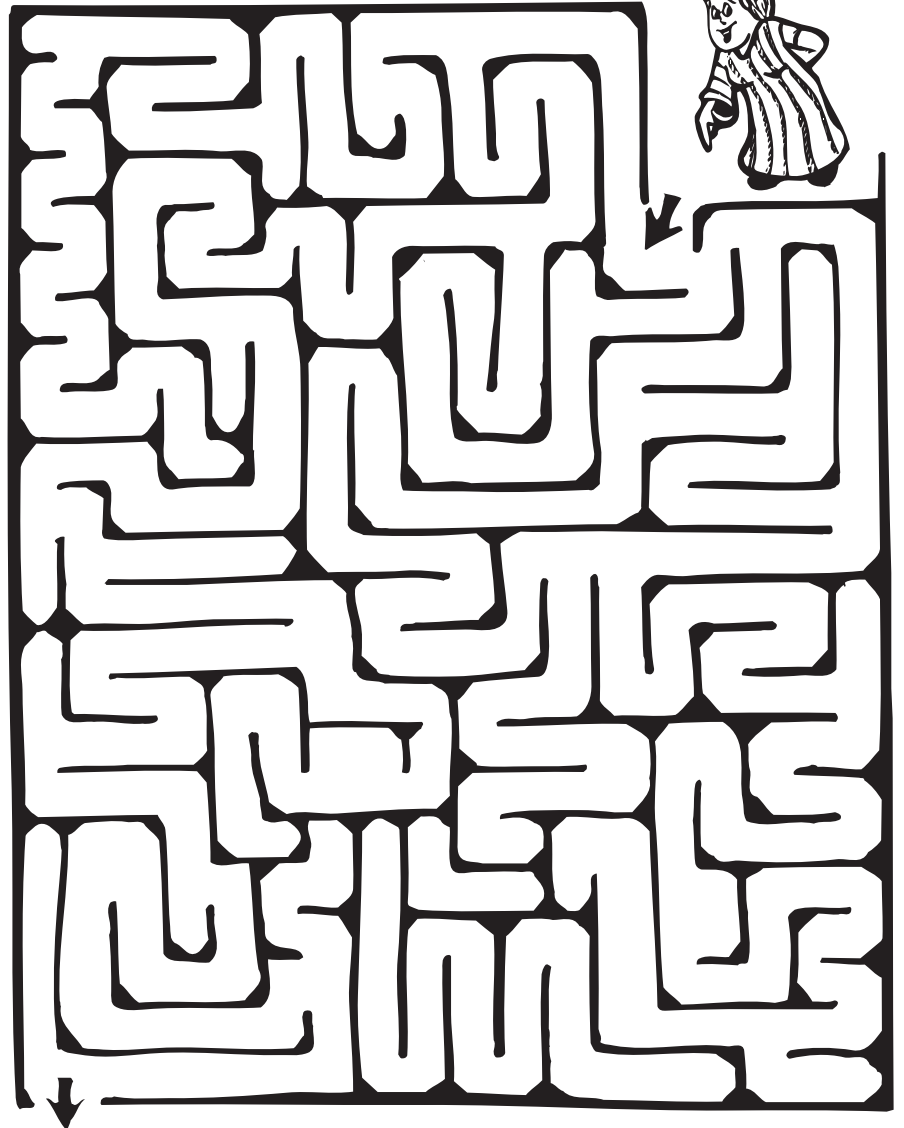

Circle the correct words.

This man tells others how to act;
"Do this!" he says, "and that, do (too, not, bad)!"
But he does the things he says not to,
And hopes that he will not get (caught, in, tot).

Find six things wrong with this picture.

This woman points the way to God,
And she really knows the (way, climb, song),

But when God called her to the path,
"No thanks," she said, and ran (fast, today, away).
